The course is provided by the University of Skövde and is named Consciousness and the Brain I G1N (Medvetandet och hjärnan I G1N). It comprises 15 credits and is a first-cycle course. The level of progression is G1N.

The course is a part of the main field of study in Cognitive Neuroscience. The disciplinary domain of the course is Natural Sciences.

2. Entry requirements

General entry requirements (or the equivalent).

3. Course content

The course goes through central problems and questions in philosophy of mind. Special emphasis is given to the philosophical debate concerning conscious experience and the role that cognitive neuroscience has in this debate.

4. Objectives

After completing the course the student should be able to:

- describe and present important problems, theories and concepts in philosophy of mind, especially questions concerning conscious experience and its relation to neural processes,
- critically discuss questions in philosophy of science
- describe and discuss how philosophy of mind relates to other relevant areas such as neuropsychology and artificial intelligence, and
- describe how developments in the natural sciences (especially neuroscience) can influence and challenge traditional theories within philosophy of mind.

5. Examination

The course is graded A (Excellent), B (Very good), C (Good), D (Satisfactory), E (Sufficient) or F (Fail).

A final grade of the course is only issued when all the examination parts have been passed and is determined by a weighted average of the grades for the examination parts. The average value is rounded to the nearest integer (half rounded up) and translated into a final grade of the course.

The examinations of the course consist of the following modes of assessment:

- Assignment I
  4 credits, grades: A/B/C/D/E/F
- Assignment II
  4 credits, grades: A/B/C/D/E/F
- Assignment III
  3.5 credits, grades: A/B/C/D/E/F
- Assignment IV
  3.5 credits, grades: A/B/C/D/E/F

Students with a permanent disability who have been approved for directed educational support may be offered adapted modes of assessment.

6. Types of instruction and language of instruction

The teaching consists of self-study, individually submitted study assignments, film sequences and teacher-led seminars via learning platform. Students also encourage creating their own "chat groups".

The teaching is conducted in English.
